Helping Churches Help People

When two or more are gathered, we can make a difference.

Every day in our community, people face spiritual, physical, emotional, relational, and material challenges. Whether it's one need or many, they are searching for help and hope. At the same time, churches are called by God to care for their neighbors, share resources, invest relationally, and show the love of Christ. Yet no single church can meet all these multifaceted needs, nor should they be expected to. Meaningful impact happens when we work together across denominations and throughout the community.

For more than 45 years, Love INC has helped connect the calling of local churches with the real struggles of the community in a way that is collaborative, relational, and holistic. Love INC is a nonprofit cooperative effort linking churches, volunteers, and service agencies. Our mission is to mobilize the Church to transform lives and communities in the Name of Christ.

At the heart of Love INC is the Connection Center, where every request begins with a caring conversation. We listen to each person's story, gain an understanding of their situation, and help determine the best next steps. From there, we schedule in person intakes that open the door to relationship, encouragement, and support. When we work together and pool our resources, we not only meet needs, we build relationships that lead to life changing transformation.
